

In times of challenge, the likelihood of success in navigating through the demands is increased by sticking together as a team. Everyone, as a unique individual, contributes different assets, skills and characteristics which help to conquer the variety of the pieces the challenge presents. When the challenge is shared by many, the burden on any individual is significantly decreased in teamwork.

As a team at Montgomery Academy we have pulled together closely and consistently to pool our talents, and as a group navigated the stormy seas of COVID this year. To remind ourselves, as well as our students, of the power of our team, we captured our philosophy and wear our shirts proudly as we declare that..."TOGETHER, we got this!!!"
